THE TRIBUNE.

Literary Notices.

SOUTHERN LITERARY MESSENGER .- Saxton & Miles have received the March number of this able Magazine, which is one of the best we have read. Mr. Simms's paper on the Extension of Copyright, and the Editor's Table, are particularly interesting, and will command the attention of critics and liteary men every where. The article on 'Mount Arrat and the Three Churches' is valuable and inspecive, and the lighter matter in the Magazine gracefully written. The poetry is of that 'good m fair' quality which cotton-samplers and magaine-editors know so well hew to appreciate. On he whole, the Messenger is an honor to our Perisical Literature, and fairly deserves to be classed, long with the Democratic Review, the Knickerlocker, and one or two others, amongst the 'Read-

LAW REPORTER, March-Burgess & Stringer .-A valuable number. The leading article is a review of Duer's Lecture on Marine Insurance.

MIRROR LIERARY .- This day is published the hird number of "the Rococo," being the twelfth of the "Mirror Library." The success of this undertaking is already sufficiently evidenced by the extension of the numbers hitherto printed. If there is one literary effort of the present day calculated to nise the taste of the reading public for the pure and beautiful, it is the one now attempted by the Publichers of the Mirror. The contents of the number before us are "The Angel of the World," by the Rev. George Croly, and "The Story of Rimini," by leigh Hunt. Both these are narrative poems of exmisite beauty, particularly "The Angel of the World," which is but very little known. The Songs and Ballads of Charles Dibdin," are in press, and will follow the present number, and those again will be succeeded by the "National Airs, Lerendary Ballads, and Miscellaneous Poems of Thomas Moore," in a double number, followed by the Poems of the Hon. Mrs. Norton," a writer of great taste and feeling.

Parts XIII and XIV of Burgess & Stringer's elegant edition of Shakspeare are published, in ingle numbers, embellished with four fine engravings. They contain King Henry VIII, Troilus and Cressida, Timon of Athens, and Coriolanus.

PUBLICATIONS ON SLAVERY .- Burgess & Stringrhave sent us "Letters of the late Bishop England to the Hon. John Forsythe, on the subject of Domestic Slavery, with copies in Latin and English of the Pope's Apostolic Letter concerning the Slave Trade," &c. &c. by George Read.

THE NECESSITY OF THE REFORMATION, by JOHN COLVIN, with supplementary matter, has just been published in a 25 cent pamphlet, by M. H. Newman, 199 Broadway. We presume this famous treatise will be eagerly and generally sought.

DOCTRINES OF THE NEW JERUSALEM .- The sermon of Sam'l F. Dike, at the dedication of the New Jerusalem Temple in Bath, Me., has been published a beautiful style, by F. Harrington Carter & Co.

We have a "Discourse on the Idea of the Spiritual Interpretation of Scripture," delivered befor the Society for Religious Inquiry in the Universiy of Vermont, at its last commencement, by Rev. Zenas Bliss. It is published by Mark H. Newman, 199 Broadway.

Patrick Donahoe, corner Devonshire and Waerstreets, has published a neat little collection of tiring poems, taken from the Dublin Nation.

PICTORIAL BIBLE, No. 2.-Harper's establishment has been literally beseiged since the issue of the 2d number of the Bible; and with two sets of? hands running all the presses day and night without cessation, they have been unable to supply the demand. So great was the eagerness to get copies that two large periodical houses in this city offered to pay a considerable advance on the trade price for all that could be delivered for several days.

We have received the memorial of Nahum Capen to Congress on the subject of an International Copyright, which was reported by a Select Committee of the House of Representatives and laid on the table, last January. How long is it to sleep there?

PENNSYLVANIA .- Of the rival candidates for Governor, Mr. Muhlenberg was formerly a Southem clergyman and afterwards represented Berks County District, several times, in Congress. He has since been Minister to Austria, whence he returned in 1840 or '41. In 1835 he was nominated for Governor of Pennsylvania by a section of the Loco-Foco party opposed to Governor Wolf, in consequence of which, (as Wolf was also run by his friends,) the Whigs elected their candidate Joseph Ritner by a plurality over Wolf; Muhlenberg coming out third on the list. The total Loco-Foco vote for their two candidates was about 14,000 more than the Whig vote given to Ritner. It will be difficult now for the Locos to unite their whole party on Mr. Muhlenberg, while the Whigs have the strongest man, probably, that could have been named in the State, for their candidate. Both Gen. Markle and Mr. Muhlenberg are natives of Berks County, the former, however, residing in Westmoreland, as we have already stated.

IP A new Clay paper has been started at Meadville, Crawford Co. Pa. by Lewis L. Lord, called the Meadville Gazette.

DEATH OF A PRIZE-FIGHTER .- Bill Ford, one of the seconds at the murder of M'Coy, has died of injuries received in a prize-fight with Tom O' Donnell near New-Orleans on the 22d ult.

I In excavating for the Coal-Gas Company in New-Orleans, the workmen after passing through three distinct strata, came to some in which were found the trunks of cypress trees twelve feet and a half in diameter. TRIAL FOR REVOLT .- In the U. S. Commissioners' Court in Boston on Saturday, fourteen seamen of the whaling ship Hibernia of New-Bedford, were examined before Mr. Commissioner Geo. B. Curtis, on a charge of attempting to make a revolt on board the said vessel at the Island of Mauritius in September last. They were ordered to recognize in the sum of $300 each for their appearance before the U. S. District Court in Boston, on the third Tuesday of March, and in default of bail, were committed.

SAD .- On the 1st inst. a young son of Mr. W G. Story of Ogdensburgh, fell through the ice on the Canal on the West side of the Oswegatchie, and was drowned.

Prof. Bronson's Reply to . O. S.' To the Editor of The Tribune :

Were I as fond of mere invectives as my assailant O. S." (who probably means to personify "Old Style,") in his attack on my lectures, I could easily excoriate him from scalp to heel, and hold him up as a scarecrow in the field of literature. But I do not wish to bandy words with any one in the way of 'calling names." When gentlemen are zealous for the public good, and desire to put down abuses, they proceed, when it is possible, by reasoning and rgument. Now, I am not only willing to meet O. S. in arument, but I hereby challenge him to meet me in that field in which he has expressed for me so much contempt—viz. "Metaphysics, Transcendentalism, Correspondence, &c." After I have shown your correspondent's utter ignorance of at least two thirds of those subjects, I will meet him in the field of THEOLOGY; or I will meet him on all at the same time: and I hereby give him permission to unite with him any others he pleases; and I now pledge myself that if I do not demolish, not only " O. S., but all his auxiliaries, with no other weapons than those principles he has attacked. I will subscribe myself what " O. S." has so generously declared me to be, - " a humbug."

But, Mr. Editor, it is not against me, or against any influence I can exert, that "O.S." (and perhaps others,) are so much offended. It is against those PRINCIPLES which are shaking the dry bones of the 'old forms" to pieces. Those principles are the principles of Universal Philosophy, which explain even the scientific of the TRINITY, the philosophy of REDEMPTION, &c .- principles which neutralize ALL RELIGIOUS MYSTERIES, and leave those who sustain them nothing but their own INTERNAL SEPULCHRES of decay, to contemplate in their dissolution. Why is it that there is so much contempt for RELIGION in the world, when so many feel it to be a reality? Why does the MIND, the REASON, revolt at it, when the HEART yearns for it? It is because it is not understood: because its Dogmas are ANTI-scientific, and contrary to experience. My endeavor has been, and is, to explain the TRUE CHRISTIAN RELIGION-the true idea of the TRINITY-the harmonious relation of GENUINE PHILOSOPHY and GENUINE RELIGION; indeed, the inseparable connection between Religion and Philosophy. If I enumerated a vast many subjects, on which I promised to throw new light, it was because ALL THINGS, when in true order, are to be referred to GOODNESS and TRUTH, and really belong to A HARMONIOUS WHOLE. The Old System is heterogeneous from firsts to lasts-and that form of Christianity too often presented, is one of the most revolting parts of it. Before I complete my Lectures I will prove all this, and MORE. I again chalenge " O. S." to meet me in the columns of The Tribune; and I will leave its numerous and intelligent readers to decide who and what are "HUM-BRONSON.

We find the following interesting matter in the National Intelligencer:

NATIONAL INSTITUTE PAPERS .- Lord Jeffrey has presented to the National Institute, in four octavo volumes, just republished under his care, "Contributions to the Edinburgh Review, by Francis Jeffrey." Accompanying these volumes is a letter from Lord Jeffrey to the Institute, in which, after acknowledging the honor of mem-Contributions to the Edinburgh Review, by which, after acknowledging the honor of membership which had been conferred upon him, which he accepts with pleasure, he adds: 'At 'my age and with my avocations, I cannot but Busts free to visiters.

But it is not altogether impossible that, on some of the branches of literature or statistics, I may be able to contribute something, and if my information, of a local nature especially, should be desired by the Institute, I shall be happy to do what I can to patisfy, or to forward, any inquiries they may be pleased to address me in either of these departments.

"In the meantime I take the liberty of forwarding, along with this, a copy of a republication I have just made of some of my more serious papers in the Edinburgh Review; which I shall certainly feel honored by the Institute condescending to accept, or finding worthy of a place in their library. That my dispositions towards their country, at all events, are not such as should preclude me from that honor, I trust that you will be satisfied, if you will take the trouble to glance at what I have said on that subject in the first articles, under the head of miscellaneous, in the fourth or concluding vo-

"It will be gratifying to me to hear that this parcel has come safely to your hands," &c. Lord Jeffrey is well known as the founder of he Edinburgh Review, although he gives to the Rev. Sidney Smith the credit of being its original projector. Lord Jeffrey wrote the first article in the first number of the Review in October, 1840. He was sole editor from 1803 till late in 1829, during which tmic he was a large and regular contributor. At that period he was honored by his brethren of the bar by election to the office of Dean of the Faculty of Advocates, when he withdrew at once altogether from its manage-

CONCLUSIVE PROOF

OF THE EXTRAORDINARY EFFICACY OF WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY. HADDONFIELD, New-Jersey, April 20, 1843.
On or about the 13th day of October, 1841, I was taken with violent pain in the side near the liver, which continued for bout five days, and was followed by the breaking of an ulcer, about five days, and was followed by the breaking of an ulcer, or something inwardly, which relieved the pain a little, but caused me to throw up a great quantity of offensive matter and also much blood. Being greatly alarmed at this, I applied to a physician, but he said he though he could do but little for me except give me some Mercury Pills, which I refused to take, feeling satisfied they could do me no good;—many other remedies were then procured by my wife and friends, but none done meany good, and the discharge of blood and corruption still continued every few days, and at last became so offensive I could scarcely breathe. I was also seized with a violent cough, which at times caused me to raise much more blood than I had done before, and my disease continued in this way, still growing worse until February. raise much more blood than I had done before, and my disease continued in this way, still growing worse until February, when all hopes of my recovery were given up, and my friends all thought I would die of a galloping consumption. At this moment, when my life was apparently drawing near its close, I heard of Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry and got a bottle, which relieved me immediately, and by the use of only three bottles of this medicine, all my pains were removed, my cough and splitting of blood and corruption entirely stopped, and in a few weeks my health was so far restored as to enable me to work at my trade (which is a carpenter) and up to this time I have enjoyed good health. cted of grand larceny, stealing $137 from Hugh Lucky, were atenced to the State Prison, Ryerson for four years and nine hs, and Spiward for four years and six months. John Moore, convicted of burglary in the 3d gree in breaking open the store of Mr. Havons, was sen-uced to the State Frison for four years.

The sentence of Edward F. Burke, convicted of obtaining property by false pretences, was postponed until Friday next, on ing to the application of the prosecutors and their counsel, some facts in his favor having been discovered since his conviction which materially after the aspect of the n. colored man, was tried for grand larceny, stealing a cloth oak worth $50, from 51 White-street, on the 22d of Februalist, the property of Thomas H. Braisted, of No. 23 Lewstreet, which was found on his person. The Jury found magnify, and the Court sentenced him to the state Prison r three years and two months.

John Jones, convicted of misdemeanor in proparing an abortion, failing to appear for sentence, a bench warrant was issued for his apprehension. TRIAL FOR GRAND LARCENY .- Joseph Thomp-

ANOTHER GRAND LARCENY .- William Reed, ANOTHER GRAND LARCENY.—William Reed, alias Duffy, of 3/3 Water-street, was tried for grand larceny, stealing $110 in money from the trunk of Joseph H. Lackland, late a U. S. carpenter on board the North Carolina, from which he had been paid off and discharged. Lackland took lodgings on the night of the 27th February at Reed's sailor boarding-house, 3/3 Water street, and started the next afternoon to go on board the steamboat for the South to go to his home in Cecil County, Maryland, and when at the foot of Courilandi-street found the boat had gone, and Reed assisted him with his trunk into a house, where Lackland opened his trunk to put lon a frack coat and put in his round about, when Reed put his hand into the trunk, took out the $110 and put it it to his coat pocket. This was the testimony of the complainant, who said he told Reed he had taken his money, which he denied and Lackland said he was afraid to accuse which he denied and Lackland said he was afraid to accuse Reed publicly, as witness was in a strange place, and was afraid that Reed, who is spowerful man, would beathim; they then, as peviously agreed, went to the Circus, and on entering, Reed left him. Next morning he went to Reed's and accused him of the their, which was denied, and finally complained of fleed and had homariesced. It was also proved that Mis. Reed, prisoner's wife, put Lackland's money into his trunk, and told him to take care Reed did not rob him of his money.

POLICE OFFICE. PERSONATING ANOTHER., &c .- John Gray, late a Clerk in the store of Silas C. Smith, was arrested to-day by Officer Drinker, charged with having on the 6th Dec. last. reenated said Smith by answering to his name and receiving a declaration against Mr. Smith for a debt due on a note of $571 to J. H. Williams, Treasurer of the Delaware and Hudson Canal Co. On this declaration and note judgmen was obtained by default, the 4th of December, and judgment set aside on the 25th of January, with costs, owing to the fact of Gray having personated Smith as deposed instead of being served on Mr. Smith. Snamer Session commences first of May. To those who desire to place sons at Boarding School, the advantages effered at this Institution are believed equal if not superior to any.
It has been in successful operation six years. The location delightful and salubrious, is convenient of access from the city. The Edifice is commodious and comfortable—the playgrounds ample, and disconnected from the village. The government is efficient but mild, resembling that of a well regulated Christian family, and no Day-scholars are received to counteract the salutary influence of family training.

The system of instruction is designed not merely to advance and perfect the pupil in the branches studied, but to develop and instruct the judgment, to enlighten the understanding, to form the habits, and to give a moral and useful direc-

for the melinations.

LEWIS PHILLIPS, Secretary, TUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY MOF NEW-YORK-This Institution has issued from the 1st of February, 1843, to 1st February, 1844 (one year) Four Hundred and Seventy Policies, viz:

By the above statement a very great business is shown, far exceeding that of any Company during its first year's progress either in this country or Great Britain. It will also be seen that nearly one half the policies are for the whole continuance of life, giving a much larger proportion of whole life Policies than the experience of other Life Offices in this country exhibit—this being about 1-6th of the whole number. The very large number of insurances with this Institution for the whole duration of life arises from the special advantages growing out of the mutual plan to such policies, which the stock company principle does not give.
